

Claresno and Coleman to Play Here Saturday

COLEMAN CANADIANS SCORE IN OVER BELLEVUE AND ADVANCE TO THIRD ROUND OF ICE PLAY-DOWNS

Defeat Maple Leafs by 8-3 Count on Saturday, Taking Round by 9-3—Game Started at 10 p.m., Giving Ice Plenty of Time to Tighten—Play Even First Two Periods

Hockey fans were wild with excitement on Saturday night in anticipation of the final game of the second round of the playdowns in the Crow League, in which the sporty Bellevue Maple Leafs were to battle Coleman Canadians for the right to proceed further in the provincial playdowns as a step towards entering the provincial play-offs and getting into Allan Cup company.

With only a one goal difference on entering the final game, supporters of the rival teams felt that had equal chances, and the large number of supporters from all Pass towns indicated the widespread interest in the finest bunch of amateur players both towns have entered in the league since 1928.

With Blairmore out of the picture this year, after pulling off the major honors since the crow league was re-organized a few years ago, interest centered on the Maple Leafs and Canadians, who throughout the series have given splendid exhibitions of Canada's national winter game.

To Coleman's honor and thanks to the good team work under Jack Kwasney's coaching, they went through the league series without losing a game, a record since 1928, when strictly amateur hockey was re-organized with H. T. Halliwell as president, followed by A. A. McLeod, Albert Bowling and Frank G. Cregegan as successive presidents of the "locals," the latter having been president the past two seasons, and Robert Patinson as secretary.

In order to provide recruits for the senior team, it will be necessary to organize the younger boys, as they have been overlooked in the interest shown in the Canadians. There is no winter sport which has so great a hold on the public as a good amateur team is an asset which arouses community pride.

COLEMAN, Feb. 18.—Coleman Canadians are victors in the second round of the playdowns in the Crow League, defeating the fast Bellevue Maple Leafs here on Saturday night by 8-3, giving a total of 9-3 for the home-and-home game. Coleman defeated Bellevue on Wednesday night by 1-0.

It was a splendid game throughout between the local rivals and as the game was not called off almost 10 p.m. to give the ice time to tighten, a large number of enthusiastic supporters from all Pass towns in Alberta and British Columbia took the opportunity to attend.

Hectic Third Period
Up until the end of the second period play was very even with a score of 4-3 in favor of Canadians. In the third period Canadians' forwards, Bill Fraser and Jenkins, clinched the series by scoring three goals, and Duke Kwasney, lanky defence player, made a raid crouched through the Bellevue team and scored a solo by taking the puck right into the goal mouth. It was a spectacular play.

During this period Bellevue's last opportunity to score was when Johnson and Kwasney, Coleman's defence, were both in the penalty box. With two men off, Coleman fans were held breathless as Bellevue concentrated their attack with the puck into Bellevue's territory. Cologrosso, Coleman goalie, did not let a shot pass him during this dangerous period, and with the re-entrance of Kwasney and Johnson in their places, Bellevue's golden opportunity had passed.

Opens Fast
The first period opened at a rapid pace, Bellevue scoring 3½ minutes from the face-off by a shot from right wing by J. Hiasney. A minute later Oliva on an assist by Joyce scored for Canadians, and five minutes before the end of the period, Jenkins, from Lilva and Fraser, brought the score 3-1 for Canadians.

In five minutes from the opening of the second period George Hiasney evened the score for Bellevue. Two minutes later Oliva on an assist by Joyce gave Coleman a one-goal lead, followed by Jenkins from Bill Fraser, bringing the score to 4-2. Bellevue by clever combination play and a shot by Dambols ended the period, score 4-3.

The third period opened in a future of excitement with chances even for both teams, there having been little to choose between them. Jack Kwasney, manager of the Canadian, played his men for all they were worth, and the fast forward strings of Coleman, with Jenkins and Fraser excelling in combination play, secured three goals between them—first, Fraser from Jenkins; second, Jenkins from Fraser; and third, solo goal by Duke Kwasney, and fourth and last, Fraser from Jenkins, ending the game 8-3.

Penalties
First period—None.
Second period—Dambols of Bellevue, Johnson of Coleman.
Third period—Kwasney, Kwasney and Joyce of Coleman; Knezicko, Bellevue.

The Lineup
Bellevue—Scodellero; Matson, Knezicko, Halliwell; Fisher, Dambols, Morris; J. Hiasney, G. Hiasney, Wain.
Coleman—Cologrosso; Johnson, Kwasney, Jim Fraser; Lilva, Bill Fraser, Jenkins; Oliva, Joyce, Brown.

SCHOOL BOARD COMMITTEES

At a meeting held on Friday evening, the following were appointed as standing committees for the year: Management, A. Reid and J. Naylor; Works and Property, G. Hope and George Evans; chairman of the dentist committee, J. M. Allan, who is also chairman of the board for the ensuing year. James Ford was re-appointed as assessor for the year.

Beyond passing some accounts, no further business was transacted.

CORRECTION ON RAIL FARE

The cent-a-mile rate to Calgary and return via C.P.R. this week, commencing Friday, is $4.40. An error was made in last week's advt.

John Bantling of Carbondale recently returned from Kelowna, B.C., where he attended the funeral of Mrs. Bantling's father, John Stoddard, who was 68 years of age and had lived in Kelowna for 27 years. He was formerly in business in Winnipeg for many years. Besides his daughter, two sisters survive, both living in Winnipeg.

Quebec Dog Derby Thrills

Names to conjure with in the Quebec derby world are now on the lists of drivers who will contend for the premier honors of the Quebec Dog Sled Derby to be staged in the Ancient Capital, February 23rd, 24th, and 25th. Emil St. Godard, mighty musher from Le Pas, Man., will again match dogs, stamina and wit against his great rival Leonard Seppala, the Alaskan whose feats on the trails are known the world over. St. Godard and Seppala, who are now training at Laconia, N. B., will both meet strenuous competition from such famous mushers as Jack Defalco, of Ottawa, Fred Wheeler, of St. Jovite, Que., and Raymond Rital, of Orient, Ont. It is expected that the total entries will run well over 30 teams.

The 120 mile classic is famous the world over, and followers of the great hearted dogs and gallant drivers are arranging to make their headquarters at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Chateau Frontenac, where special music, dancing and highbrowed gaiety will feature each evening during Dog Sled Derby Week. Winter sport enthusiasts from European, United States and Canadian centers are this year more than ever before making Quebec their winter playground. Skiing, tobogganing, curling and skating are among the popular activities under the direction of Jack Strathdee winter sports director at the Chateau Frontenac.

Inquest Fails to Reveals Reason of Jandura Being on Coke Conveyor at Time of Accident

Coke Plant Employee Suffers Terrible Fatal Injuries—Inquest Verdict: Accidental Death.

The inquest into the death of Charles Jandura, who suffered terrible injuries from being crushed in the coke conveyor at International Coal plant on Feb. 16, resulted in the following verdict:

"We find that Charles Jandura died from shock, in the miners' hospital, at 12.45 a.m. Feb. 17, caused by an accident which happened at 3.20 p.m. Feb. 16, while following his employment at the coke ovens. We attach no blame to any person.

"We recommend that all exposed gears on the coke extractor and loader be covered to prevent further accidents of this nature."

The following witnesses were called: Dr. R. P. Borden, who informed the jury of the extensive nature of the injuries, his abdominal muscles, chest and one leg being mangled, one forearm mangled. Though conscious on being admitted to hospital, more severe shock followed at 9 p.m., and deceased gradually sank and died. Everything possible was done by dressings and administering morphia to relieve the victim's suffering.

Luke Lindoe, mining engineer for the company, gave evidence on the blue-print submitted to illustrate the details of the accident.

P. Rinaldi, operator of the machine on which the accident occurred, testified the last he saw of Jandura prior to the accident was ten minutes before. Jandura was then at his job levelling coke in the railway car as it dropped from the conveyor.

Deceased had been cautioned to keep away from the machine, and had no right to be on it. The first he knew of the accident was when the electric switch was suddenly shut off, as from his station on the machine he could not see Jandura.

Jeffrey Knowles, employed at the ovens, was the nearest actual eyewitness. He heard a shout, and looking over to the machine saw a man tangled up in the gears. He immediately rushed to the switch and shut off the power. Jandura was lying against the big gear on his side, conscious, and he helped take him off the machine. Prior to the shout the last he saw of Jandura was at his work of levelling coke in the railway car.

Frank DeCocco, engineer's helper, gave evidence as to greasing the machine, stating that the grease gun was in the same place that he had left it, so that deceased could not have been using it on the machine. Steve Ryden also gave evidence, which throw no light on how deceased came to be on the machine. He helped liberate Jandura from the gears.

Richard Greenhalgh, coke oven foreman, stated Jandura's duties that day were to handle coke cars, moving and braking same from oven to oven, so that the machine could dump the coke into the cars.

At 3.20 p.m. Feb. 16 he was walking towards the machine when he heard a shout, and saw men rushing to the machine. He also rushed up to find what was wrong, and on arrival found Jandura had already been released, being supported by two men. Asking Jandura what had happened, he replied: "My belt got caught." The doctor was immediately sent for, and Borden and McLean arriving in the meantime.

The injuries were so extensive that first aid was being practically helpless. Deceased was an energetic employee, and witness spoke highly of him.

Constant Blyth, R.C.M.P., though not giving sworn evidence, informed the jury he had taken a statement from Jandura in which he stated that deceased's duties were strictly confined to work on the railroad cars, and why he should have been caught on the machine is a mystery, which none could explain.

Appearing for the Mines Branch, Inspector Moses Johnson questioned witnesses in order to make the evidence more clear to the jury. Supt. McLeod appeared for the company, and William Chapman for the miners' union. Alex. Morrison was the coroner.

Terrible Injuries at Coke Ovens Kill C. Jandura

Charles Jandura, aged 26 years, employed at the coke ovens of International Coal Co., sustained terrible injuries late Friday afternoon, from which he died at 1 a.m. Saturday.

He was caught in the coke conveyor and the upper half of his body was lacerated and mangled and one forearm torn off. Despite such terrible injuries, he was conscious after admittance to hospital, and conversed with his spiritual advisor and also with Alex. M. Morrison, to whom he dictated the terms of his will in favor of his little four-year-old daughter and his wife, living in Czechoslovakia.

He came here from Michal when the coke manufacturing plant was re-opened in 1933, and was highly thought of by his working companions. The funeral was held on Sunday under the direction of the fraternal organization of which he was a member, the Czechs, at the service being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lesosky.

A jury was empaneled on Saturday, including H. Snowdon, J. M. Rushton, W. Jenkins, Tom Lloyd, George Dickson and W. Dutil. After viewing the body and scene of the accident, the inquest was adjourned until 6.30 a.m. on Monday, by Coroner A. M. Morrison.

CARD OF THANKS
The First Slovak Benefit Society of Canada, through its members, wishes to express its appreciation to all those persons who attended the funeral of Charles Jandura.

King Albert Of Belgium Is Killed In Mountain Climbing Mishap

Brussels.—A tragic death awaited King Albert in a mountain climbing mishap, when he attempted to climb a 200-foot cliff, lost his footing and fell 36 feet. He was alone at the time.

That King Albert should have attempted mountain climbing in his own country was in itself an amazing thing to his grief-stricken subjects.

Mountain climbing simply is not done in this country, and one who knew him said that probably no other Belgian except the king, whose bravery has often been demonstrated, would have thought of trying to ascend the loose, shaly rocks of the famous Tuffeau cliffs near Namur.

Albert was inspired by the fatal attempt by that district as a national park. Only a few days ago the cabinet acted favorably on petitions of tourist groups urging legal methods to preserve the region forever as a showplace.

Leopold III, called by tragedy to the throne of Belgium, is assured a warm welcome from his subjects.

They know the 32-year-old prince as a convinced democrat, a soldier and serious student of government.

At the age of 13 he won the love of the Belgian people by his courage as a common soldier in the Great War. He worked shoulder to shoulder with peasants against the invading German army.

An Duke of Brabant and a prince of royal blood, Leopold indulged in football when a youth. A clever mechanic, he drives his own car, often at a daring speed, and can pilot an aeroplane. Two of his chief hobbies are trout fishing and entomology, the collection of butterflies.

Alberta Cattle Shipment

Carlton Will Be Sold By Auction In England

Edmonton.—As a result of efforts being made by the Dominion Holstein Association to find a market for surplus stock in Great Britain, one carload of southern Alberta cattle has been shipped and will be sold at auction in the Old Country, while a second car is now being selected for shipment from Edmonton. This was revealed in a report made at the meeting of the Alberta Holstein association by Harry Hays, Calgary, provincial fieldman.

Farm Loan Loss

Winnipeg.—The Manitoba Farm Loans association sustained a net loss of $610,700 for the 12-month period ending April 30, 1933, according to the regular report tabled in the Manitoba legislature. The previous year's loss was $284,177.

Guarantees, Loans And Grants Made Under Relief Acts

Ottawa.—Guarantees, loans and grants made under the relief acts by the government in 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934 to persons, private concerns or corporations are set out in a return tabled in the house of commons by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance.

In answer to Hon. W. D. Euler (Lib., North Waterloo), the following guarantees are shown:

Algoma Steel Corporation: Re manufacture of steel rails for Canadian National Railways, maximum amount of bank advances guaranteed $660,000.

Beuharnois Light, Heat and Power Co.: Toward completion of construction, amount of bank advances guaranteed $15,538,500.

Canadian Pacific Railway Co.: To meet capital obligations and indebtedness payable, amount of bank advances guaranteed $50,000,000.

Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation: Re manufacture of steel rails for Canadian National Railways, maximum amount of bank advances guaranteed $1,100,000.

The government guaranteed re-employment of bank advances to the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Ltd.: In respect of the marketing of the 1932 crop and marketing operations of that company; also advances to the Manitoba

Photos Of Eclipse

Astronomers Conduct One Of The Most Successful Expeditions In History

Lozap, Caroline Islands.—Scores of photographs which they believe will contribute greatly to further studies of light were obtained by Japanese and United States scientists during a total solar eclipse.

Because of cloudless skies and careful preparations the scientists who journeyed to this lonely mid-Pacific atoll declared themselves confident they had conducted one of the most successful expeditions in the history of astronomy.

They were sought to determine whether light of the sun's corona is direct or reflected and the angle of deflection of the sun's light—which bears on Professor Einstein's relativity theory.

Lozap's 350 natives, equipped with smoke glasses which the scientists had taught them to make, took up positions on the beach at dawn to await the promised show.

They clapped their hands in childish glee as the sun slowly disappeared, but when darkness came and a fiery crown later leaped from a blackened disk they were silent and solemn.

Quantity Kept Secret

U.S. Authorities Not Telling Amount Of Canadian Gold Received

New York.—Canadian gold is coming to the United States to gain the attractive price of $35 per fine ounce, but in what quantity remains a secret of the authorities.

The price of $35 is on delivery at the New York Reserve bank, the United States assay office here, or the federal mints. The seller pays freight and insurance, while the United States government deducts 1-4th of 1 per cent for handling and makes minor discounts for assay charges.

The United States government pays by cheque, 98 per cent, at the time of delivery and the remainder after the assay is completed.

Promoted To Commander

Prince George Now Has High Rank In Royal Navy

London.—The admiralty has announced promotion of Prince George, now on a tour of South Africa, to rank of commander in the royal navy.

It is a double promotion for the king's youngest son, who has been a lieutenant for eight years. Prince George is naval aide-de-camp to His Majesty.

Importance Of Canada

Will Play Leading Part In Affairs Of The World

London.—Canada would play a leading part in all the world changes now happening, said Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born newspaper magnate, in an address at the luncheon of the Canadian chamber of commerce in London. The Dominion's rapid advance in independence of thought and political attitude made this inevitable, he thought.

Lord Beaverbrook spoke mostly in reminiscent vein and in the main paid tribute to the late Andrew Bonar Law as a great Canadian who was chiefly responsible for the British victory in the Great War. Bonar Law, native of New Brunswick, was a member of the war cabinet from 1915 onwards, chancellor of the exchequer and leader of the house of commons for the last two years of the conflict and one of the signers of the Versailles treaty. He died in 1923 not long after relinquishing the premiership.

Lord Beaverbrook said it was John F. States of Halifax, who taught him to look ahead, and later in Montreal Sir Herbert Holt taught him to "see big." "Then I came to England and fell in with the greatest of all Canadians, Bonar Law."

Says West Passed Up

Not Getting Fair Share Of Dominion Expenditures

Ottawa.—A glance through the estimates for 1934-35, or for any years in the past 13, would prove to eastern Canadians that the western provinces were not receiving their fair share of Dominion expenditures on public works—apart from relief projects, Hon. Charles Stewart (Lib., Edmonton West) told the supply committee in the house of commons.

Mr. Stewart spoke with considerable feeling about people of eastern Canada who complained it was costing too much to carry the prairie provinces. "I don't say anybody in this house has made that charge," Mr. Stewart said, "but it has been made time and again, particularly in the Maritime provinces."

The Maritimes had received ten times the public expenditure that the prairie provinces had received, Mr. Stewart said. He realized there were no harbors or rivers on the prairies. All the western provinces had received were repairs to an occasional new building.

Unique Collection

Sixty Parliament Houses Within The British Empire

London.—In one way or another the empire has 60 parliament houses, nearly every one following the rectangular model of the mother of parliament's debating chamber with the government and opposition facing each other.

This is well illustrated in the unique collection of pictures of the parliament houses of the empire, on exhibition at the press gallery at Westminster. The exhibition was opened by Captain Edward Fitzroy, speaker of the British house of commons.

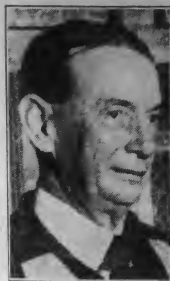

Radio Investigation

Ottawa.—A motion to inquire into the operations of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission by a committee of nine members was approved in the house of commons. The personnel remains to be announced, but expectations are that Hon. Raymond Morand (Cons., Essex East), will be chairman.

One of the most vivid assassination photographs ever made shows Mohammed Nadi Shah, King of Afghanistan, dying in the arms of a member of his staff after he had been shot in the gardens of Dikhana Palace, Kabul, while addressing a gathering of students. The picture, made by a member of the king's entourage, was smuggled from Afghanistan through secret channels.

BLAMES LONDON TREATY

Admiral Sir Roger Keyes, who is National Conservative candidate in the North Portsmouth by-election, in an election speech, denounced the London Naval Treaty as having done "grave harm" to the British Navy.

Can See No Hope

If We Limit Wheat Production, Time To Quitte, Says Expert

Calgary.—If it becomes necessary to restrict the production of wheat in the open plains area of Saskatchewan and Alberta seriously, then it is time to consider abandonment of the country, in the opinion of J. G. Taggart, agricultural expert and superintendent of the Swift Current experimental station.

"I can see no hope whatever for successful agriculture unless the substantial part of the land is used to raise wheat," he told the Calgary branch of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists.

Of Saskatchewan's 31,000,000 acres under cultivation, 16,000,000 acres are in the open plains area and in normal years the bulk of the high grade wheat is grown in that area, Taggart said. Only a few crops can be grown in the area and spring wheat is the most productive and more profitable.

To Assist Dairymen

Appeal To Government To Stop Price Cutting Of Creamery Butter

Edmonton.—An appeal to the Dominion government to provide legislation to stop price-cutting of creamery butter was made by the closing session of the 25th annual Alberta dairy convention here. The meeting elected T. M. Carlyle, of Calgary, president and chose Calgary for the convention of 1935.

The meeting also ratified a resolution carried by the producers' section, asking for a federal marketing board and resolutions from both producers and manufacturers' sections urging compulsory grading and marking of all butter sold at retail. The proviso was added that marking be made not effective in Alberta until implemented in British Columbia, and the resolution requested enabling legislation from Dominion and province and a copy was addressed to the B.C. Dairymen's association.

Not So Many Tourists

Ottawa.—During the past calendar year 2,233,418 tourist automobiles entered Canada for a period of 34 hours; 863,136 for a period not exceeding 60 days, and 333 for a period exceeding 60 days, according to a statement issued by the department of national revenue. This showed a considerable falling-off as compared with 1932.

THE ASSASSINATION OF A KING

One of the most vivid assassination photographs ever made shows Mohammed Nadi Shah, King of Afghanistan, dying in the arms of a member of his staff after he had been shot in the gardens of Dikhana Palace, Kabul, while addressing a gathering of students. The picture, made by a member of the king's entourage, was smuggled from Afghanistan through secret channels.

Three Power Move Is Made To Guarantee Austria's Independence

Alberta Wheat Champion

W. J. Bryant Wins Honors at Provincial Seed Fair

prize for sweet clover at last year's fair was used to purchase certified wheat seed which produced a sample of Reward that won for William J. Bryant, Boyle, Alta., the championship wheat title at the Alberta seed fair here.

It was the first time Bryant had shown wheat here but he is well known as sweet clover champion of Canada, having won first prize at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto. He took third place in sweet clover at the World's Grain Show at Regina last year.

At the International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago, Bryant, who has only been farming for eight years, secured a second for sweet clover and a sixth for wheat. His sweet clover took first place at the Alberta fair.

Lethbridge growers took major honors. In the first judging awards announced, Haddington Brothers of Lethbridge placed first in the spring wheat section, registered of certified. J. D. Morris, Hardisty, was second, and J. W. Shearer of Morris, third.

In the spring wheat class, early varieties, the Smith Farm, Limited, Lethbridge, placed second to P. J. Rock of Morris, while W. S. Giffen, Lethbridge, was second in the winter wheat section, any variety variety. John A. Neil of Morris was first.

Top prizes in the open ends class for junior grain clubs only, Grande Prairie was first, Edison second and Brightview third.

Tricky Promoters

Ontario To Investigate Activities Of Mining Stock Salesmen

Toronto.—Officials of the Ontario securities commission were investigating high-pressure promoters of small mining stocks who have "sucker lists," and promoters who, by letter or by radio broadcast divided opinions on certain stocks.

Officials claim that Ontario has been a stamping ground for unscrupulous high-pressure traders from other districts. It is reported these salesmen specialize in cheap stocks, pestering prospective clients with highly-colored reports on mines and possible fortunes for investors.

The purposes of the inquiry, it is understood, is to frame a law which will narrow the sphere of the activities of such operators.

Regulations Must Be Fair

Edmonton.—Western farmers should be compensated for reduction of wheat acreage, declared A. G. Andrews, U.P.A., Sedgewick, speaking in the legislature in the debate on the house throne speech. "Something must be done to curtail the production of wheat in order to get rid of the surplus but regulations must be fair to the farmers of the west," said Mr. Andrews.

Paris.—A three-power warning to Germany that Austria must not be meddled with was reported virtually agreed upon by Great Britain, Italy and France.

A public declaration forming a "moral bloc" the big powers would be signed under such project in an effort to "frighten" Nazis from attempting to overpower the Austrian chancellor, Engelbert Dollfuss.

The pronouncement was proposed by Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, who is seeking to keep Austria a buffer state between Fascism and Nazism.

London.—Reports that Great Britain was being pressed to join a three-power move to guarantee Austria's independence swept government circles and the London press.

Retardation of a free Austria comprises one of the main points of Britain's European policy was the only official comment forthcoming.

Big Fur Catch

Northern Trappers Report Largest Returns In History

Winnipeg.—Across Canada's vast northland, from the fringe of the Arctic through the barren lands and the wooded country further south, the fur trade is booming.

Northern traders reaching Winnipeg from frontier points declared the greatest fur catch in history was in progress. From widely scattered points in the isolated interior came word of phenomenal yields.

A Fur Chaperone, Alta., trader already has 3,000 fox skins and none in that district have less than 1,000 skins, traders said. The stimulation of the trade has increased business throughout the north country. Outcoming plane and dog teams are laden with pelts.

The same story was told in northern Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Trade With Russia

Anglo-Russian Pact To Stimulate Trade Between Countries

London.—Increased purchases of all kinds of British goods by Russia, it was learned, is the basis of an Anglo-Russian trade agreement.

The new pact calls upon the Soviet Union to buy approximately as much as it sells to Great Britain.

This means an annual increase of about $20,000,000 in British exports, based on figures of the last normal trading year, 1932.

The correction in the present trade balance, which now heavily favors Russia, will not be made immediately, however.

It is understood the Soviets will be permitted to sell about $1,600,000 worth of goods to Great Britain for every $1,000,000 of wheat bought. This ratio will be gradually corrected until Russia buys as much as it sells here.

The balance will take into consideration the value of each country, such as tourist trade.

Bennett Government Wins Out On Want Of Confidence Vote

Ottawa.—The Bennett government won two more victories in the house of commons, beating back a Progressive want-of-confidence motion, 89-54, and passing the address in reply to the speech from the throne on the same majority.

A. M. Carmichael (Prog., Kinderley) joined the Conservatives in both divisions, pitted against Liberals and the bulk of the third party group.

The want-of-confidence motion was sponsored by James S. Woodworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre and Dominion leader of the C.C.F. It claimed the administration had failed to deal adequately with unemployment, the public debt or the plight of farmers. When it was voted down it marked the end of the address debate which has been carried on almost continuously since the house opened three weeks ago.

Passing of the debate was won by D. Euler, former Liberal minister of national revenue with his double proposal of merging the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways under public ownership and a scaling down of interest charges on Dominion government bonds. These steps would be taken in an effort to balance the Dominion budget, paying the way for unemployment insurance and other social legislation.

A general defence of the agricultural policies of the government was entered by Hon. Robert Weir, who holds that portfolio in the ministry.

He ridiculed opposition suggestions for reciprocity with the United States in farm products, claiming it would leave cost Canadian farmers $750,000 a week, based on February 1 prices, if American hogs had been permitted to enter this market.

In a passing reference to the world wheat agreement, the agricultural minister claimed it had been approved by the majority of western farmers and by the premiers of the prairie provinces.

ODDS AND ENDS

A weekly newspaper battles away for its community, it publishes reports of its various activities, churches, council, school boards, writes nice notices when people are married or buried, tries to convey to the world at large that we have a live and enterprising community, while all the time it is struggling to get enough to pay its way. The editor is called on to boost this, that and everything, often on good wishes alone. It does not pay wages, neither does it encourage one to write flowery bouquets when many who sit back and catch whatever plums might drop from the tree do not contribute a cent towards furnishing the sinews of war. A live weekly newspaper is an asset to a community, and merits a share of support from every store which is here to induce Coleman people to buy from them. Yet we notice stores, which howl if anyone buys out of town, advertising in a throw-away-sheet or other so-called advertising mediums which do not give them a cents worth of business in return, and robs the local printing office of what little business they may have to give. "O consistency, thou art a jewel!"

We boost for those who advertise in The Journal, for they at least set the example by their actions in buying at home.

Reams of propaganda are received every week by the newspapers of the country which they are asked to publish gratis. We assume the reason for this is that it is generally understood that without publicity most any movement would prove to be a complete flop.—Cranbrook Courier.

Two years ago, Feb. 18, 1932, The Journal reported the publication of the first issue of the High School Echo.

One Hundred Million Dollars Paid in 1933 by Sun Life.

The attention of readers is drawn to the annual report advertisement of the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada in this issue, which last year paid out $100,000,000 in benefits of various kinds to its policy-holders and dependents. In these times when the most burning question is how to preserve our economic equilibrium, the fact just cited is a luminous example that insurance companies have evolved a sage and scientific way whereby a man may provide, at little inconvenience, during his productive period, for the lean years ahead.

C. J. Tompkins of Blaimore, local representative, would be pleased to take up insurance matters with those desiring protection.

Representatives of "cheap John" printing houses, who never spend a cent with the merchants, are playing their wares in the district. They should be given the gate.—Cranbrook Courier.

Interesting News From Bellevue

Bellevue Maple Leafs lost out in the final game at Coleman on Saturday night by the score of 8-3. Fans attending this game say it was a very good game until the last ten minutes, when the Canadians started going great guns, and scored four goals in about six minutes. The fans from Bellevue say the best team won and we all wish the Canadians the best of luck and will be boosting for them in future playoff games. About 150 from Bellevue were up to see the game.

Reports from the Holy Cross hospital, Calgary, say that L. Dambosi is progressing very favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meade returned from Bellingham, Wash., and other coast points where they have been visiting for the past six weeks.

One of the largest crowds attended the hockey game on Wednesday evening, Feb. 14, Coleman Canadians winning the first game of the A.A.H.A. second round playoffs by the 1-0 score. M. Pozzi, formerly employed by the Coleman Collieries, has been taken on as expert drill man with the government crew working on the new highway through the Frank slide.

A very large crowd attended the whist drive and dance held in the I. O. O. F. hall on Wednesday. The committee in charge report a financial success as well.

Arrangements are under way to have the Macleod Stellers play the return game with the Maple Leafs some time this coming week. We are informed by the hockey management that this date will depend on the arrangements being made at Coleman for the semi-final playoffs.

Now the elections in the Pass towns are over and the Maple Leafs are out of the running. Bellevue people will see that this date will depend on the new fields of excitement.

Mrs. Clyde McDonald left for Calgary where she will be under medical treatment for some time. Mr. McDonald has been ailing for the past two months.

Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada

THE report of the Company for 1933 is one of consistent and constructive progress. Its achievements enhance the impressive record of public service it has rendered during the sixty-three years of its existence.

In 1933, as in the preceding three years, people generally experienced exceptional anxiety, the result of incomes being either impaired or entirely cut off. At such a time the unflinching aid and security of life insurance proved of very great value.

In this service the Sun Life Company bore a worthy share. During the year it paid out (exclusive of policy loans) nearly $100,000,000 to policyholders and beneficiaries. Similarly, during the four years of depression it has paid out over $380,000,000.

Notwithstanding these substantial payments, the Company, during the same four-year period, increased its assets by $55,000,000—its insurances in force by over $307,000,000.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the gaiety, Peter and Camilla slip off the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Peter, another and Camilla's mother likewise. Camilla decides that she must leave the home of her adopted parents immediately and go to live with Rose, her sister, who is a file clerk in a business house. They decide to take an apartment. Bowman and Weeks, an advertising agency, where Camilla has submitted some of her work, send for her and tell her they have a new account which requires unusual treatment of juvenile art. To Camilla's surprise she learns that the account is that of her foster father's company, which has decided on an extensive campaign to bolster up failing business. After a conference with Mr. Bowman, Camilla decides to attempt the work. With ideas running fast in her head she goes home and spends the night sketching. In the morning, armed with her samples she sets out for the agency. The critics were enthusiastic about her work, and Mr. Weeks offers her a salary of $50.00 a week to start and a prospect of having it doubled. She goes to keep a dinner engagement with Peter.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XXXI

"We were speaking yesterday," Camilla began steadily, glancing around the table at the men who faced her attentively. "Of reaching the household buying public—the women—through the children. And, of course, we can't reach children with adult ideas. There is nothing so attractive to children as a story, and the more the story appeals to their imaginations, the better they like it." Heads nodded silent and attentive agreement.

"So, I have worked out, very briefly, my suggestion for a story which will lend itself to indefinite time and at the same time make a complete effect from the beginning. At least, it seems that way to me. I am presuming with my judgment for the sake of explanation, of course," she smiled apologetically.

Six nodding heads encouraged her to continue.

"It is a picture story and the characters are the Tiny Tots of Tinyville, who are diminutive people. The general idea is not new, of course. All children are familiar with fairies, gnomes, kiewpies, brownies and what-not. But I have given to these individual names and characteristics and some new experiences that may appeal to youngsters. There are the chief Tiny Tot family and their relatives and friends—and enemies, presented in colored drawings that require very little text. Most of that is given in their own conversation."

She offered the first card of drawings to Mr. Weeks, then presented one to each of her critics. "I have first made a sketch of each principal character, then a series of stories. For the best reason, they should run in weekly publications, so as to carry the thought easily from one publication to the next. For monthly advertising, a different series, like these, would be more suitable." She stopped and glanced anxiously at the faces of her judges, whose eyes were intent upon her drawings.

Almost simultaneously, the six men looked at her and then at each other. Without exception, their faces lighted with approval and the comments of approbation rattled about her like hailstones.

"Splendid!"

"Very clever—noval idea."

"Best thing I've seen for a long time."

"You had this idea worked out before?" Mr. Bowman inquired with surprise.

"Not at all. The idea came to me after I talked with you yesterday. As I say, the thought is not entirely new—but I think the presentation of it is."

"Very—how," he agreed. "But you don't tell me you have done all these since you were here yesterday?"

"I did," she smiled. "Of course, I intend to improve them with more time and I should hope the whole project would work out better as I went along—that is, if the suggestion should be used," she added quickly.

Weeks and Bowman looked at each other, smiled and turned to Camilla. "I am afraid they will be used," said Mr. Weeks. "There will be some formality of submitting the plan to the advertising manager of the Wheatheart corporation, but we shall recommend the idea enthusiastically. I think, Miss Hoyt, that you have a position, and one which is going to keep you pretty busy for a while."

"Nothing could please me more," earnestly.

"But you won't have to do this much work in one day, remember," he chided pleasantly.

"I don't think I could do that much every day," she laughed. "This was an emergency, you see."

"You always meet emergencies, don't you?" he looked at her with admiration.

"That is quite important, isn't it?" soberly.

"Indeed it is. But the emergency is where most people fail. A sudden responsibility frightens the average person."

"Why," Camilla wondered, "just does the opposite for me—it stimulates me, challenges me."

"Then you are the very person we need here, whether you draw Tiny Tots or lumbering giants," he decided. "Now, in regard to salary—much will depend upon the progress and the success of this campaign. Would you take fifty dollars a week to start, and if the returns are satisfactory within two months after the first publicity, we'll double that."

Camilla's head whirled crazily for an instant. She knew that fifty dollars or even a hundred dollars was no fortune, but that she—Camilla—could earn that much money for herself every week, seemed miraculous. She nodded, before her voice could command a sound. "Any arrangements you make are satisfactory to me." Anything, she thought, to get a start, to prove her ability to herself and others—oh, she would have accepted much less for the opportunity to begin her work.

"May I ask one favor of you, Mr. Weeks?" she asked hesitantly.

"Why—of course—"

"When you submit these to your client," she indicated the drawings, "please don't tell anyone who made them. Your artists need not be known to your advertisers, I suppose?"

"No, not at all, if you prefer to have it that way. Our work goes as a firm, but usually if an artist is very successful, his individual work attracts attention."

"In that case, it would be all right," she agreed, "but I much prefer to remain anonymous for the present."

Then she was shaking the hands and accepting the compliments of the executive board, and presently found herself in her own car driving toward home. Everything looked changed, different, she thought. As if the world had donned its holiday attire to celebrate her victory. And everywhere she glanced, her Tiny Tots printed themselves on the sky, the treetops, the buildings and pavement—waving their hands at her gleefully.

She turned into the park when she reached the entrance, and drove leisurely along the boulevards. Traffic was not heavy at this time of day, so driving was a pleasure. Later, it became a hazardous responsibility.

Camilla thought about Peter, and her dinner engagement with him, and how happy he would be over the news of her success! Six hours was a long time to wait to tell him, but she would make herself be patient. She would go home and rest for awhile before time to dress for dinner, she decided; and realized that she was quite weary, now that the stimulus of anxiety had been withdrawn and the first excitement of victory had passed.

Tomorrow, she would look for an apartment, and get settled before business, when it had been temporarily arranged that she would begin her work. Rose would be happy over her good news, also. And the thought followed that she would be able to do much for Rose now—far more than she ever had been able to do when she lived with wealth, surrounding her. Her social position all of her allowance. She would be able, also, to slip her own mother an extra bill occasionally if her salary were doubled soon. That meant that she had to succeed. It meant that the Wheatheart Cereal corporation would prosper and expand. Some day, perhaps, she would acknowledge her part in the campaign to Alexander Hoyt, and deserve the words of approval that he had withheld, always. Why, she had often conjectured, but never decided.

For dinner with Peter that evening, she selected a frock of champagne yellow crepe, severely cut and very becoming for the occasion. She was celebrating not only an important event, but she was bidding farewell to the girl of the past who had been Camilla Hoyt, even as she had not done on the day when she had married Peter.

That day had marked a transition from youth to womanhood, from love's promise to love's fulfillment; this was a revolution from reluctant dependence to glorious independence. (To Be Continued)

Inventor of Telephone

Home of Alexander Graham Bell At Brantford Is To Be Preserved

The house at Brantford, Ont., in which Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, conceived the idea of this revolutionary invention and in which it was first practically demonstrated is being moved to a new location in order to save it from destruction.

Gradual sections of the steep banks of the Grand river had so undermined the foundation of the historic house that hurried efforts had to be made to save it. A considerable sum of money has already been spent in an attempt to stay the erosion, but without avail.

According to the written accounts of Professor Bell, the discovery of the telephone, both as to its main principle and as to the first transmission of the human voice, was made at his father's residence at Tutela Heights, Brantford, in 1876, and the first telephone talk over any distance was conducted between Brantford and Paris, Ontario, a distance of eight miles, on August 10, 1876.

Hypnotism By Phonograph

Method Has Recently Been Invented
By German Doctor

Possibilities of the use of "Psychophone," the method of hypnotism by phonograph, which was invented recently by Dr. Casimir Radwan, in Berlin, is reported to be arousing a great deal of interest in Europe. The method is that human voices of strong suggestive or persuasive power are recorded on phonograph records, which are delivered to patients. The patient sits before the phonograph in record until hypnotized. There are special messages for the business man, those unable to concentrate and for the nervous. Dr. Radwan claims many cures. Critics declare that the idea could be used in propaganda or by cuts and political parties, and if carried to talking pictures would have an ominous mass-suggestion power.

REASON FOR SONG

O, song is a bit of a puzzle. When we want to know why Words spring from the heart set to music.

At sight of a star in the sky!

The reason for singing eludes one. Though song may be sweet: on his lips.

When he watches the white rimes foaming.

In the wake of the out-going ships.

So many things move to the measure Of song through the day and the night.

The river, the wind in the willows.

The wings of the sea gulls in flight.

So great is the urge of its beauty That translating a rose into words is no more of a task to the singer. Than their morning songs are to the birds.

Though the reason for singing is hidden.

Still the need rages, abiding and deep.

As the need of bread is for the hungry.

As the need of the weary is sleep.

World's Oil Supply

Will Last For Next Thirty Centuries
Is Estimate

Petroleum in known deposits and at the rate of the present consumption is sufficient to last the world for the next 30 centuries, according to Dr. Gustave Egloff, of Chicago. With only two million acres of oil wells producing in the United States alone, Dr. Egloff points out that America has 1,100,000,000 acres of possible oil land that is yet to be explored and developed.

Fire Destroys Historic Mast

The Admiralty's 440-foot wireless mast at Grimsby, England, which flashed the historic war signal to the British fleets on Aug. 4, 1914, crashed in flames after burning for 24 hours. The flames were visible for many miles on land and out at sea, in a wonderful spectacle. No one was hurt and the origin of the blaze was unknown.

What About The Press?

No One Sheds Tears Over Publishers' Hard Times

New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, Evening Post says: "Now that we've taken care of the banks and the buildings and loan companies and the insurance companies and the railroads and the mortgage companies and the farmers—does anyone have any objection to some sort of relief for the newspapers?"

Bad times and good, the newspapers must go on just the same. The harder the times, the greater value of news. The newspapers must be maintained. It costs just as much to get out the newspaper, despite the fact that advertising has dropped to a new record low ebb.

But no one sheds tears for the press. Newspapers are supposed to cry for relief of others, sob for the suffering in individual or corporation form, and snarl for justice and retribution. Every headache is carried to the newspapers, every complaint is given to the press, appeals for the needy, pleas for business, charitable and civil reform—all is a part of the newspaper's duty to the public.

But when business fails off, advertising contracts are cancelled and publishers are struggling for a livelihood, a sudden attack of deafness comes over the land. Does anybody ever stop to think that a town without a newspaper these days would be completely of the map?

Magazine For Blind

Marking a new era in journalism for the blind, a magazine in raised type for the sightless has been printed at the Braille Institute of America in Los Angeles. The periodical will carry a digest of world news, the latest political events of import, some bits of humor, household hints and an occasional short story. The magazine, to be issued monthly, is entitled the "New Moon," in honor of Dr. William Moon, the Englishman who perfected a type for blind in 1847.

Investigations are in progress by the Dominion department of agriculture to learn the most efficient and least expensive methods of seeding and harvesting crops.

Little Helps For This Week

"And what do the Lord require of thee but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."—Micah 6:8.

"Put on therefore kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering."—Col. 3:12.

Plant in us a humble mind. Patient, pitiful and kind; Meek and lowly let us be. Full of goodness, full of Thee. —C. Wesley.

There is no true and constant gentleness without humility; while we are so fond of ourselves we are easily offended with others. Let us be persuaded there is nothing true in us, and then nothing will disturb us. Let us often think of our own infirmities, and we shall become indulgent towards those of others.—Fenselon.

Endeavor to be patient in bearing with the defects and infirmities of others, of whatsoever sort they be; for thyself hath many failings which must be borne with by other people. If thou canst not make thyself such as one as thou wouldst, how canst thou expect to have another in all things to thy liking.—Thomas A. Kempis.

Trying Open-Air Method

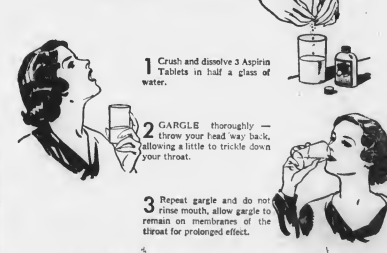

Chinese Government Has New Cure For Opium Habit

From Canton, China, comes a new cure for the drug habit. It is an open-air method. The Canton government has issued an official proclamation that on and after March the first all opium addicts, if caught, will be forced to live in roofless houses and endure, so the edict says, "terrible exposure to the elements." As an opium smoker lives in a closely shuttered, stuffy room, exposure to an unlimited quantity of fresh air is to him the worst of tortures. So the Canton government counts on this aversion to fresh air to bring the opium addicts to their senses.

Now! Ease Sore Throat
Instantly!

Remember: Only Medicine Helps Sore Throat

Modern medical science now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that cures the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes!

It requires medicine—like ASPIRIN—to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout the world are prescribing this ASPIRIN gargle in place of old-time ways.

Be careful, however, that you get Aspirin Tablets for this purpose.
